

‘The foundation stage profile’s in the future for my nursery children but I’ve got lots of relevant information to contribute’

NURSERY PRACTITIONER

‘I know so much about these children, but how is it going to be useful as they move into Reception?’

NURSERY PRACTITIONER

‘How could I open up a professional debate with my nursery colleagues to support transition?’

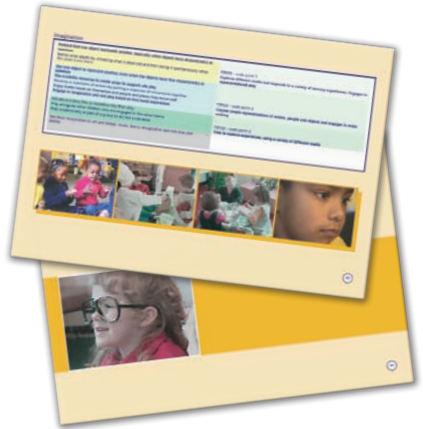

RECEPTION TEACHER

Straightforward guidance, on the links between the development matters/stepping stones and the Early Years Foundation Stage Profile. It will support Reception practitioners in making effective use of information gathered in early years and support early years practitioners in contributing to Profile assessments in the Reception year.

First Links:

- is compiled to support EYFS practitioners who have direct and daily involvement in the process of assessing and recording children's progress; it helps them to be aware of the practical issues – and how to overcome them
- has a particular relevance to all EYFS practitioners – whatever the current level of their involvement in the EYFS Profile
- is practically laid out, well-explained and easy to use, with pages of tables and summary sheets
- supports confident dialogue between practitioners in different parts of the EYFS, and between practitioners with different roles.

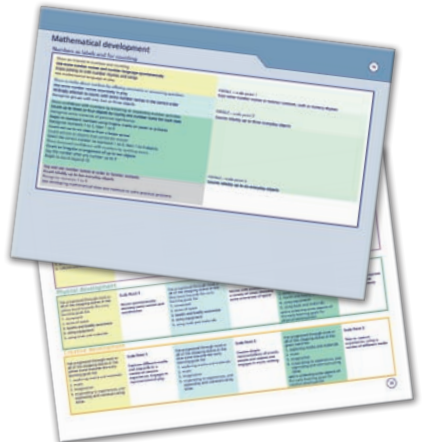

‘I’m still planning for some children using the development matters/stepping stones. How do I build on what they’ve learnt?’

RECEPTION TEACHER

First Links will:

- offer you and your EYFS colleagues valuable, practical, day-to-day support in assessing and recording children's progress
- show you clearly the links between the development matters/stepping stones and the EYFS Profile
- help you to streamline the recording and use of valuable information (by using the photocopyable self-assessment sheets for children and summary sheets for staff)
- give you and all colleagues in the year prior to Reception succinct information on shaping your contributions to the EYFS Profile.
